WHOLESALE OF JEWELS FORCED TO OPEN SAFES

Robber Band Takes Over Elevator.

Armed and masked, three men walked through a door in a bullet-proof partition in the office of S. Lazarus & Sons, manufacturing jewelers at 200-204 South Peoria street yesterday afternoon, forced Sig Lazarus, the president, to open five safes while a dozen of his employees and customers looked on, and left with gems valued at $200,000. One of the men carried a sawed-off shotgun under his coat.

When the three entered the place they found George Yetto, 65 year old elevator operator, standing by his car.

Attack Elevator Man.
Without delay one of the men struck him on the head with a revolver butt. Tossing him, unconscious, into the elevator, one of them took the lever and they ascended to the seventh floor, which is occupied by the Lazarus concern.

Sig Lazarus was talking to Verne Hurst, buyer for Harold Lachman & Co., when the thieves entered.

"Up with your hands," said the man with the shotgun. "If there's any noise out of you there'll be killing."

He was obeyed. Meanwhile the other thieves forced the employees to raise their hands and stand in a corner.

Customer's Wife Fainted.
Mrs. Sumner Cohen, wife of a Monmouth, Ill., jeweler, who was buying from the concern, fainted.

"Let her alone," the leader commanded. Then he sent all the employees and customers into a vault and turned to Lazarus. He commanded him to open the safes. When Lazarus demurred the man seized one of his arms and twisted it, warning him that a bullet would follow unless the order was obeyed.

Lazarus decided that discretion would be more profitable than resistance. He opened the safes, and each one was rifled by the robbers. In the vault in which the prisoners were held the thieves spied a trunk containing gems valued at $35,000. The gems were put into a suitcase which the crew carried.

Thieves Work Fast.
The entire operation took only a few minutes. Lazarus stated only the best quality of his merchandise was taken and the robbers appeared to be familiar with his premises as well as with values.

J. Benjamin, office manager for the concern; B. Benjamin, a foreman, and George Lande, a clerk, were not in the office when the gang entered, but when they came in they were met by one of the men and forced to join the others in the vault.

The robbery moved along with such dispatch and quiet efficiency that other occupants of the floor, with only a partition between them and the office, heard nothing until the victims raised the alarm following the escape of the trio. One of the robbers stood guard at the door connecting with the work rooms, in which thirty-five men and girls were employed, while the others seized the gems.

Flee with the Loot.
Carrying the suitcase with the loot, the trio went back to the elevator, warning the victims to remain quiet, descended to the ground floor and stepped into a large touring car, in which a fourth member of the party was seated. In it they sped out of sight. Although the police were notified immediately, they could find no trace of the route taken by the robbers' car.

Rev. Waters, Noted Pastor, Dies in Auto

Wareham, Mass., Aug. 20.—(AP)—The Rev. William Otis Waters, D. D., for 22 years rector of Grace Episcopal church, Chicago, died suddenly while driving his automobile through Onset, Mass., today. Mrs. Waters and her children, who were staying at a hotel in Woods Hole, came here tonight to claim the body.

A pedestrian in Onset noticed that Dr. Waters had slumped over the wheel and that his car was out of control. He ran into the street and threw on the emergency brakes just as the machine was about to plunge over an embankment.

Due to the fact that there were no papers of identification in the car or in the clergyman's clothing, the body was unidentified for several hours.

Mrs. Waters started a search when her husband failed to return to their hotel. Identified his body in an undertaking establishment here tonight.

The medical examiner stated death was probably due to heart disease.

CHICAGO POLICE NOTIFIED.
Chicago police were first notified last night that a man had been found dead in an automobile having Illinois license number 89,033, and a dealer's tag which bore the name W. O. Waters. Checking the records, police found that the license had been issued to the Rev. Dr. Waters.

The police then went to the Waters residence at 61 East Division street. They found no one at home. St. Luke's hospital authorities, in the chapel of which the congregation of Grace Episcopal church has been meeting, said Dr. and Mrs. Waters left for the east in June. Letters have been received from them regularly and yesterday a letter was sent to Mrs. Waters at Brookwater hotel, Woods Hole, Mass.

Location of Town.
Wood's Hole is at the southwestern point of Cape Cod, while Onset, where Dr. Waters was when stricken, is twenty miles north, at the head of Buzzard's bay. Onset is about fifty miles south of Boston.

Dr. Waters would have been 64 years old on Sept. 4. He was born in North Norwich, N. Y. He graduated from Hobart college in 1884 and in 1909 received the degree of doctor of divinity from his alma mater. He came to Grace church from the rectory of St. Andrew's church, Detroit, in 1903.

Prominent in Church Circles.
Dr. Waters was a prominent figure in Episcopal church circles and also in Chicago civic life. He succeeded Dr. Ernest M. Stiles, lately elected bishop of Long Island, N. Y., as rector of Grace church. Fifteenth street and Wabash avenue. Grace church shared with St. James on the north side and Trinity on the south side the honor of having in its vestry many who were socially prominent. In September, 1915, Grace church was destroyed by fire. The Cathedral of St. Peter and Paul on the west side having suffered a similar fate, an effort was made to combine the Cathedral, Grace, and Trinity congregations and erect a Chicago cathedral. Dr. Waters opposed the plan and for a period there was dissension. More recently he had in mind plans for the erection of a new church near St. Luke's hospital.

Fought First Ward Ball.
Dr. Waters came into civic prominence in 1908 when he fought the holding of the First ward Democratic ball, promoted by Aldermen McKenna and Coughlin, in the Coliseum, which adj. jected Grace church. He opposed it on the ground that the ball attracted dissolute characters, which disturbed the worshipers of his church. The ball was forbidden that year. Threatening letters were sent to Dr. Waters because of his activity.

Dr. Waters was chaplain of the national Republican convention in 1916. He was governor of the Society of Mayflower Descendants. He was a trustee of St. Luke's hospital since 1901, where he was a constant visitor. Grace church has an endowment of $400,000 and historical treasures greatly prized by Dr. Waters and his congregation.

CHICAGO COP'S CAR IN CRASH;
CHARGE SPEEDING
In a collision between the automobile of a Chicago policeman who, according to witnesses, was speeding and a car driven by a young River Forest woman last night, she is believed to have suffered a fractured skull and her arm was so badly injured that amputation may be necessary.

The accident occurred at Franklin and Central avenues, River Forest. Miss Helen Ryan, 38 years old, 187 Keystone avenue, was driving in Franklin avenue when her car was struck and overturned by a machine driven by A. Timm, 1104 North Hardin avenue, a policeman assigned to the Austin avenue station. Miss Ryan was caught in the wreckage.

LOST—A GREAT CITIZEN

Won't Tip Off Scofflaws, So Consuls Fined

New York, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Eugene Le Boese, honorary consul of the republic of Haiti at Manchester, N. H., arrived today on the steamship Nippon, from Port-au-Prince, accompanied by twenty-six large and weighty pieces of baggage.

A customs agent asked for the keys to the trunks.

"Sir!" said Mr. Le Boese. "I am a diplomat. I claim exemption from customs examination."

"Sir!" replied the agent, "I suspect that you have liquor hidden among your shirts."

Pleads Diplomat's Exemption.
"Certainly," assented the honorary consul, "all the ambassadors bring in liquor."

"But you, sir," the examiner pointed out, "are not an ambassador, nor even a minister, but a consul, and an honorary consul at that."

Mr. Le Boese bowed to authority. "That trunk contains liquor," he said, "and so does that case."

They did hold liquor—240 bottles of champagne, vermouth, whiskey, and precious Moselle, a five gallon keg of best Haitian rum.

Refuses to Name Friends.
"I abide by the laws," the consul protested to Edward Barnes, assistant collector at the custom house. "I just brought this in for some of my friends. They did not give me the money to purchase it. I thought it was quite regular. Never before has my baggage been searched."

Examiner Barnes fined him $1,200, but offered him immunity if he would give the names of his friends.

"No," said Mr. Le Boese, positively. "If a crime has been committed I alone am guilty and I alone will pay the penalty."

DRIVER IS SHOT DOWN; LAYS IT TO 'ASSOCIATION'
Peter Termatt, 1540 West 16th street, driver of a city refuse truck, was taken to the county hospital early today with three bullet wounds inflicted by an unidentified assassin who attacked him at the rear of his home. One wound in the abdomen, it is said, may cause death.

Termatt told police and hospital authorities that killers hired by "the association" undoubtedly made the attack. He explained that "the association" operates on the lines of a Blackhand society and had vowed vengeance on him before. His home, he said, has been bombed three times.

SCORES IN LOOP SEE DEATH LEAP OF 14 STORIES

F. G. Hart, 50 year old salesman of 2024 Lane court, killed himself late yesterday by plunging from the fourteenth floor of the Westminster building, 119 South Dearborn street, into an alley.

Scores of pedestrians, passing through the alley on their way home from work, witnessed his fall.

Wilhelm Hunt, 909 Pleasant street, Oak Park, told the police that he was in the Marquette building, next to the Westminster, and that he saw Hart open a window and, after hesitating a moment on the ledge, leap off.

Identification was made through a card of membership in the Commercial Travelers' Association of America. The police attributed Hart's action to despondency over being out of work while his wife was ill.

While his wife was ill, he said, he was told Mrs. Hart had been confined to her bed for several weeks.

Woman Catches Burglar;
Holds Him for Police
When Mrs. Edith Nystrom, 7723 South Merrill avenue, found a burglar ransacking her flat, she screamed. The burglar fled. Mrs. Nystrom pursued. She caught him just as Policemen Lyons and McDonald arrived. The burglar gave the name John Kapacinski, 1821 Ogden avenue.

LAWSON'S PLAIN TASTE TO MARK RITES AND TOMB

Publisher's Funeral Set for Monday.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.
(Picture on back page.)

A community all agog to learn what disposition the late Victor Lawson's will makes of his newspaper and his great fortune may this morning know at least this much:

No granite monument will mark the grave at Graceland where he will be buried on Monday morning at 11 o'clock.

There will be a marker, carved with the dates of birth and death, at the head of the grave. Naught else.

The kinsman closest to him emphasized this arrangement as characteristic of Victor Lawson, saying:

"He had no illusions of greatness and no craving for a posthumous renown. He knew that when he should be through he would be through. That was one of the reasons he never permitted himself to think that he 'was the Daily News.' He had a lively sense that the Daily News was an institution and that he was a person subject to natural laws. Hence he firmly detached his personality—in the sense of purely personal likings and dislikes—from the journal that meant half a century of his life. His attitude in that respect accounted for what many persons who knew him little, but thought they knew him better, called his 'peculiar feeling' about the inviolability of his personal affairs."

Burial to Show Devotion to Wife.
The burial arrangements emphasize another signal attribute of the man—his devotion to his wife in life and to her memory after death took place. They were inseparable comrades for four and thirty years and in death they will not be divided. Mr. Lawson's plot in Graceland comprised two lots, in the rear of one of which he will be buried. The body of his wife will be distinguished and placed beside him. Then simple markers will be erected.

Characteristic, too, is the fact that there will be no funeral service at the mansion on Lake Shore drive. His home was more than his castle—the aspect of which it has—it was his home, and as such it was sacred to his intimates, his pictures, his tapestries, his books and documents, and his studies. There he did not entertain on the grand scale, but in a most intimate and unostentatious way.

Favorite Guests at His Home.
Favorite guests here, or in his earlier home on La Salle avenue, were W. L. McLean, publisher of the Philadelphia Bulletin; the late J. P. McKinney of the N. W. Ayer & Co. advertising agencies; the late R. A. ("Rob") Waller, and the late John P. Wilson, and in the instance of each man there was a definite reason why he was a favorite. Mr. McKinney commanded his fondness because of his fine literary attainments combined with a high character. In the Chicago attorney, Mr. Wilson, he admired the legalistic clearness of a mind which he felt belonged to the older and stouter school of lawyers. Mr. Wilson's brilliant and understated and deeply relaxed. "Rob" Waller was a boyhood and school friend of old days and a church friend and fellow worker of later times. The bond between him and Mr. McLean was close because, perhaps, their characters and tastes were essentially alike.

Two Traditions in Public Mind.
In the course of his half century in a semi-public position two traditions about Mr. Lawson got themselves firmly established in the public mind. The first was that he was piteously lonely; the second that he was cold and aloof.

The fact was that he was singularly shy; no back slapper nor even wishful to be slapped on the back. Devout politicians or weak public officials who had no reason to like him were wont in public addresses to describe him as aloof, alone, alone in his castle on the drive—not a friend in the world!—In these utterances they would mingle pity and scorn with pretty good effect.

Mr. Lawson's reaction would be, "Thank you for that. I am indeed alone when it comes to the companionship of such as you."

His Mind Kept Open House.
But his mind kept open house and had many visitors. He did not go often into the wide world of promiscuity, but, via the cable and a choice selection of intimates who had numerous and varied contacts, he brought the wide world into his home and kept a close finger on its pulse.

This he did, even when he was on the far journey, which Mr. Lawson made his undertakings in her hope that

SYRIANS FIGHT TO END FRANCE'S RULE, CHIEF SAYS

Will Die to Stop Tyranny, Druze Sultan Vows.

By JOHN VON WEISL.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
JERUSALEM, Aug. 20.—The Tribune correspondent was the first to report that the Druze, the head-quarters of the rebel Druze chieftain, Sultan Pasha Atrash, leader of the rebellion against the French in southern Syria. In explaining the causes of the insurrection, the sultan said: "French oppression became insupportable. Gen. Serrail even refused to hear our delegation sent to complain against Gov. Carbillat. All privileges granted by the French in 1921 were canceled and our chiefs were arrested for criticizing conditions. Our revolution is not a little one, but the opening of a general revolution."
Sultan Pasha informed the sultan of the French conditions for peace, which follow: The payment of $5,000 ($25,000); the payment of indemnity to plundered Christians and merchants and the delivery to the French of all arms captured by the rebels.

Refuse Peace Terms.
To this the sultan replied: "The conditions are not acceptable. We were attacked and we are not obliged to pay a levy. Any of our countrymen who were harmed will be indemnified without interference from the French. The arms which we won with our blood will not be returned."

"The French apparently are prepared to accept the Druze's conditions regarding amnesty and autonomy under a Druze governor with a council elected by the Druze, if you accept their demands," the Tribune told the sultan.

"I am not satisfied with autonomy for Jebel ed Druze; we demand independence for all Syria," the sultan answered.

"What do you mean by independence?" the sultan was asked.

Want Independent State.
A free elected parliament, a national army, and a national government with a king or a president. We would have the French act only as counselors for departments as the British do in Iraq.

"There are only 4,000 French soldiers in Syria, and France is occupied with Morocco, so she is not willing to send reinforcements here while we have many friends all over Syria. If France dares to attack the Druze all Syria will rise. It is better to die honestly than to live under such conditions as existed before the revolution."

The Tribune correspondent visited the battlefield at Mezra, where three weeks ago the French were defeated. Many bodies of unburied French soldiers were seen along the road.

CHICAGOAN ON YACHTING TRIP DROWNS IN LAKE

Mantoloking, Wis., Aug. 20.—[Special.]—John Berggraff, 39 years old, a Chicago business man, was drowned in Lake Michigan, north of Two Rivers, yesterday afternoon, a few seconds after he plunged into the water off the yacht Comrade, on which he and friends were returning from a cruise north of Sturgeon Bay. Before taking to the water, Berggraff threw a life preserver into the lake as a safeguard and although when in distress he appeared to touch it, he was unable to hang on. Another preserver was thrown him, but he sank in front of it. Robert Danner, owner of the yacht, and others in the party worked with the Two Rivers coast guard all night to recover the body, but were unsuccessful.

The yacht is now lying in this port. Berggraff's residence, according to his companions, is at Diversey parkway north of Sturgeon Bay. Before tak-

"DOLLAR A YARD" MEN REFUSE HEED DRY

Andrews to Ann
New Agents To

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Aug. 20.—The long awaited appointments to posts as directors of the prohibition forces were made public tomorrow by Gen. C. Andrews, field marshal federal liquor sleuths.

Many rumors were afloat as to who will fill the principal posts. There remained but even a few as to who will be the directors of the northern Illinois district. It did become known that A. C. Townsend, divisional chief, is to return to his old ground as administrator of the district with headquarters at Paul. This was one of the rumors confirmed by Gen. Andrews.

Appointment Is Temp.
Capt. Townsend left Washington and will go direct to Paul after a possible brief stay. It is understood, however, his appointment is of a temporary nature and that he is likely to be sent later on to another district. In fact it is that Gen. Andrews has had to be in the field, especially in Chicago, New York, Boston, Philadelphia with big business men willing to serve for pay.

It was announced some time ago that the salaries of the divisional chiefs as new administrators were to be $10,000 a year. Gen. Andrews had to be in the field, especially in Chicago, New York, Boston, Philadelphia with big business men willing to serve for pay.

Caused Reorganization.
That has been the main reason for the delay in carrying out the reorganization plan, which was to take effect on Aug. 1. The effect would not be so pronounced as Gen. Andrews had to be in the field, especially in Chicago, New York, Boston, Philadelphia with big business men willing to serve for pay.

After all the promises that were made as to what the reorganization would accomplish, Gen. Andrews was advised, the country was in a state of confusion, especially the wet and dry would be apt to make points of the fact that the "same game" was in command.

But as time wore on Gen. Andrews was forced to pick his new staff from the available material. Consequently the country-wide reorganization of state and divisional offices was called off.

It is said some of the appointments will be of a temporary nature, as Gen. Andrews has hopes of persuading some of the ex-army officers to take their services in the liquor. One of the rumors was that a former army officer would take charge of the Illinois district.

"DOLLAR A YEAR" MEN REFUSE TO HEED DRY CALL

Andrews to Announce
New Agents Today.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Aug. 20.—(Special.)—The long awaited list of new appointments to posts as district administrators, under the reorganized plan of the prohibition forces, probably will be made public tomorrow by Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, field marshal of the federal liquor sleuths.

Many rumors were afloat today as to who will fill the principal posts, but there remained not even a good guess as to who will be the administrator of the northern Illinois-Indiana district. It did become known that Capt. A. C. Townsend, divisional chief of the Illinois-Wisconsin-Michigan territory, is to return to his old stamping ground as administrator of the Minnesota district with headquarters at St. Paul. This was one of the few rumors confirmed by Gen. Andrews.

Appointment Is Temporary.
Capt. Townsend left Washington today and will go direct to Minnesota after a possible brief stop in Chicago. It is understood, however, that even his appointment is of a temporary nature and that he is likely to be succeeded later on and either made assistant administrator or transferred to another district. In fact it is reported that Gen. Andrews has had great difficulty in inducing any $100,000 a year or $50,000 a year men to accept jobs as prohibition administrators.

It was announced some time ago that he intended to fill the key positions in the field, especially those at Chicago, New York, Boston, and Philadelphia, with big business men who were willing to serve for the comparatively small salaries paid by the government.

He enlisted the aid of senators and groups of business men in these centers in attempting to induce responsible leaders in the business world to accept the jobs, but met with little success.

Caused Reorganization Delay.
That has been the main reason for the delay in carrying out the reorganization plan which was to have gone into effect on Aug. 1. It was pointed out by administration leaders that the effect would not be so promising if Gen. Andrews had to announce the reorganization of state directors and divisional chiefs as new administrators.

After all the promises that had been made as to what the reorganized forces hoped to accomplish, Gen. Andrews was advised, the country at large, and especially the wet and dry leaders, would be apt to make political stock of the fact that the "same old crowd" was in command.

His time wore on Gen. Andrews was forced to pick his new administrators from the available material and consequently the country-wide conference of state and divisional directors was called here.

Not Ex-Army Officers.
It is with some of the appointments to be announced will be of only a temporary nature as Gen. Andrews and members of his strategy board still have hopes of persuading some $50,000 a year men or ex-army officers to do state director jobs in the war against liquor. One of the rumors afloat today was that a former army officer is to take charge of the Illinois-Indiana district.

ANOTHER CROP FAILURE

SCIENTIST FAVORS SCANTY CLOTHES, SUNLIGHT BATHS

(By the Associated Press.)
Experiments to determine the effect of sunlight on the chemistry of the blood have led University of Chicago scientists to suggest fewer clothes as a stimulus to health.

Sun bathing, long considered a vagary they find to be based on important physiological realities. C. I. Reed of the university's department of physiology, has completed a series of preliminary experiments in search for a new basis for light therapy and its application in the treatment of rickets, tuberculosis and other ailments.

Through an experiment in which a functioning blood stream was put under the full spectrum of the sun for an hour and a half, Mr. Reed was able to discover the physiological and chemical changes in the blood induced by the light rays concentrated on the living organism.

The preliminary work indicates that the effect of light rays on the blood stream is to produce marked changes in oxidation. Greater applications of light produced harmful results, such as the massive depression of blood pressure, the destruction of white blood cells, and increased coagulability.

Moderate applications, however, through a quartz tube, produced beneficial results through stimulated oxidation.

Just what physiological changes result from the increased oxidation thus brought about, scientists are unable to say, but Mr. Reed has reached the conclusion that the human organism demands sunlight, and that mankind is endowed with an instinct to get out into the sun as much as possible.

Mr. Reed's experiments are described by scientists as the most exhaustive ever conducted in that field. He is continuing his work with a view of formulating a system of treatments under which predetermined results may be obtained under laboratory control.

SENTENCE GIRL'S KILLER; COSTELLO TO HANG OCT. 16

New Trial Is Denied; Appeal Planned.

Raymond Costello, latest murderer to be sentenced to death, must hang on Oct. 16, unless the Supreme court on some other agency interposes, Judge Charles A. Williams in the Criminal court decreed yesterday as he denied the condemned man's plea for a new trial on the grounds that he had been tried and convicted unfairly.

Costello took the sentence calmly. He entered the shaver's mother and father were also there, and they took the sentence in the same stoic way.

Girl Found Dead July 9.
Should he be hanged, Costello dies for the murder of 16-year-old Madeline White, whose body was found under a porch near her home in South La Salle street on the morning of July 9. The girl had been attacked and strangled to death with a handkerchief stuffed far down her throat—a blue bandana identified as Costello's.

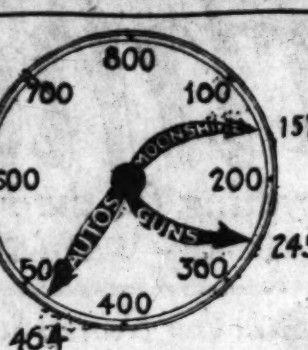

Two other men are scheduled to go on the scaffold the same day, Friday, Oct. 16. These are Frank Lunciano, convicted of killing his common law wife; and Campbell McCarthy, holdup man, found guilty of killing a 50-year-old watchman in a stickup.

Should the sentences of all three be carried out on the day set, Sheriff Hoffman said yesterday, it is likely they will face the ordeal side by side on the same trap and drop into eternity together.

Case to Supreme Court.
But Attorney Jay J. McCarthy, for Costello, announced immediately upon the decision of the court that he will take the case to the Supreme court on a writ of error.

A strange coincidence in the case of Costello and both the other men now under sentence to hang on the same day with him is that Assistant State's Attorney William McSwiggan prosecuted all three before Judge Williams.

HANDS OF DEATH

The hands of the clock indicate the number of deaths by autos, guns, and moonshine in Cook county since Jan. 1. Yesterday was the two hundred and thirty-second day of 1925.

2 AUTO DEATHS RAISE TOLL OF YEAR TO 464

The automobile death toll for the year was raised to 464 yesterday with two deaths.

James Bloom, 64 years old, 1222 Newport avenue, a laborer, died in the Illinois Masonic hospital of injuries received several days ago when he was struck by an automobile driven by Arthur Ross, 3023 Fulton street. Bloom was crossing Fulton avenue at Belmont avenue when knocked down. Ross was not held.

Andrew Barth, 40 years old, 2676 North Austin avenue, an employe of the Lincoln park board, was fatally injured last night when he was knocked down by an automobile while crossing Stockton drive at the foot of Center street. Barth, who was on duty at the time, died at the Columbus Memorial hospital four hours later. Daniel Rangan, 4 East Chicago avenue, driver of the car, is being held by the police.

ELIZABETH WISE IDENTIFIED BY OHIO RELATIVE

Mrs. Elizabeth Wise, who while in a comatose state was taken off a Santa Fe train last Tuesday and placed in St. Luke's hospital and who since has been a mystery woman to the hospital authorities and police, yesterday was identified by her half sister, Mrs. Leonard Kiefer of Piqua, O.

Belief that Mrs. Wise had been doped by some one who planned to rob her was expressed in Dayton, O., yesterday by Arthur Schaeffer of that city, according to an Associated Press dispatch. He said that since Mrs. Wise was divorced ten years ago her former husband, a former Hollywood real estate dealer whose name he refused to divulge, had been pursuing her. Authorities at St. Luke's last night, however, asserted that she had not been doped.

HE'S TOO GOOD A SWIMMER TO DROWN HIMSELF

Perhaps Marshall Custer would have fulfilled his threat to commit suicide if he hadn't been such a good swimmer.

Custer, who lives at 4514 South Union avenue, took off his coat sometime yesterday morning on the beach near the old German building in Jackson park. In it he left several notes.

"I'll swim out in the lake a block or two till I tire and then not swim back," one of the missives stated. Another, addressed to Mrs. Custer, read: "I was going back to 46th street and South Park avenue, where all the happiness in my heart was torn from me; but it is too far to go. Goodbye. I'm a failure."

A third note to his son advised him to "be a good man—not like daddy, a crook and a hoodlum."

When a crowd of Negro picnickers found the coat and turned it over to George Bird, manager of the Jackson park beach, a search for the body was started. Coast guards were sent out to drag the lagoon and the lake.

While the boats were out three guards from the beach, at which Custer himself one time worked as a life saver, found him not far from the spot where he had left the coat. His clothing was wet and he appeared dazed from hunger and exposure.

"I can't drown myself," he moaned. "I tried it and I couldn't. Every time I swam out I had to swim back. Give me a chance and I'll do it yet."

But the three guards, Reuben H. Mencken, Francis Walker and L. Papowski put him into a taxicab and took him home. Mrs. Custer and the coast guard were recalled.

Custer is said to have been despondent over his failure to find work.

SHIP DISASTER DEATH LIST NOW 42; U. S. QUIZ ON

Newport, R. I., Aug. 20.—(AP)—The toll of deaths in the Steamship disaster stood at 42 tonight. At least eight more, terribly scalded when the boiler exploded on the excursion steamer, have not the slightest chance to recover, physicians asserted.

Four other persons, reported as missing, are believed to have drowned. United States naval flyers flew over Newport harbor today in search of their bodies. Navy and police officials planned to start dragging for them tomorrow.

Investigation of the disaster moved swiftly today following the arrival of Inspector General George Uhler, head of the United States steamboat inspection service in Providence.

ANTON CERMAK'S CONDITION NOT HELD AS SERIOUS

Physicians at St. Anthony's hospital reported last night that the condition of Anton J. Cermak, president of the county board, whose illness has been diagnosed as intestinal influenza, was practically unchanged. Mr. Cermak became suddenly ill last Monday while on a vacation in Wisconsin and was brought back to Chicago on Tuesday. During the evening he developed a severe headache and Dr. Frank Jirka, his son-in-law, was summoned to his side. Mr. Cermak's condition is not regarded as serious.

THE WEAR IS IN THE WEIGHT

Illustrated:
2 Quart Double Boiler
Price $1.60

Begin now to know just why we say "The wear is in the weight"

Here are the facts about aluminum ware every thoughtful woman should know

Certain articles made of gold are seemingly cheaper to buy than others that look the same. It is because the cheaper articles contain less gold. They are lighter; quicker to wear out; with only the appearance of a higher value. Yet they are none the less pure gold.

So it is with Aluminum. It may be rolled almost paper thin, yet shaped to seem substantial and strong. It may be burnished and patterned to please, yet be but a shining imitator of that which is good, and strong, and fine. None the less it is pure Aluminum.

Like gold, THE WEAR IS IN THE WEIGHT. Like gold, if unreasonably cheapened, real value must be sacrificed.

Read the result of scientific tests

The makers of Lifetime Aluminum Ware helped to pioneer the introduction of heavy and serviceable Aluminum Utensils at prices within the reach of all. It is the result of fifteen years of work in our own laboratories, testing every known weight and thickness of Aluminum, in its use for every culinary purpose.

Thousands of utensils were made, thoroughly tested and discarded. LIFETIME Aluminum Ware is the result. It means the correct weight of Aluminum in every utensil, GUARANTEED TO WEAR FOR A LIFETIME.

It means when you buy a piece of Aluminum Ware bearing the LIFETIME name, that you obtain full value for your money, and full satisfaction during a lifetime of use.

Remember the "gold" test

Heavy, stamped Aluminum Ware cannot be sold as cheaply as thin, light weights. Yet there is the economical price limit to every piece of Aluminum Ware you buy. The LIFETIME tests have proved how much you should pay for Aluminum Ware.

Look for the LIFETIME Trade-Mark. "THE WEAR IS IN THE WEIGHT."

VICTOR F. LAWSON.

Victor Lawson's life contains most of the important history of Chicago. He was born here seventy-five years ago. These seventy-five years contain the growth of the city, the spread of its achievements and also of its problems. For nearly fifty years of this development Mr. Lawson edited a newspaper, the same newspaper all the years. He had not been three days away from his desk when he died, literally in harness until the end. That alone is a remarkable record in journalism and public service. We know that without public service no newspaper could have gone through these important years. It had to promote public welfare to share it.

Mr. Lawson was ten years old at the beginning of the civil war, old enough for the boy who was to be so influential as a man to get a serious impression of the responsibilities of the citizen to the state. We believe that Mr. Lawson's study was of citizenship, how it could be freed from social injuries, how the individual could be helped out of bad environment, how the citizen could make his democratic government a success.

For a man with this ambition nothing could have been better than that he should be an editor with a paper which grew with the city's growth. There was a day by day opportunity for nearly fifty years to fix the influence of good social and political ideas upon the public mind.

Mr. Lawson had the right mind for that work. He was a realist, not a visionary. That was why he could influence events. He knew the political systems he tried to improve and did improve. To oppose the better man would take the next best. He took up the better man and the better organization. They might win. They often did. He supported Charles S. Deneen against Lorimer. Deneen was a practical politician with an organization, just as Lorimer was, but he had much better public purposes. Lawson did not expect to find idealism in any political organization, but good results might be obtained with one and with another had results were certain.

Among other things he taught Chicago citizens that they should not try to base their local government on the fact that Lincoln freed the slaves. The civil war was not a good test of the qualifications of candidates for the city council or of other city officials. Possibly the fact that he was the son of a Norwegian immigrant had something to do with his early perception of this now obvious fact. He grew up freer from the tight bands of national party which other people had slipped on them by their fathers.

He taught that character and ability, not national party labels, fitted for office, and he broke down the idea that local affairs should find their decisions in national party politics. He printed facts to indicate which were the better candidates regardless of party names. He printed the tickets—"Cut this out and take it to the polls." The voters began to do so. The political leaders knew they had a new element in politics. For the same purpose of promoting intelligent, independent voting he was behind the Municipal Voters' league at the start.

He had the satisfaction of seeing the city not only grow physically and materially but improve morally each year, handling such social questions with more success than is to be found in other metropolitan areas. He was a great enemy of vice.

As fifty years an editor he had to take the news through the transition period when metropolitan newspapers went to great circulations with new popular interests. They did not all get through by any means. Old journalistic standards and ideals had to meet the pressure of increasing population and interests. There was a great deal in modern newspaper making that Mr. Lawson did not like. He made concessions slowly, but the news kept the pace. He was a great newspaper man, and that means that he knew how to gather and distribute news as well as how to conduct an agency for social and political benefit.

The public life of Mr. Lawson was in his editorship, but as a private citizen with a fortune he backed the agencies to which his newspaper gave support. The people who must read facts for this work knew him as a liberal giver in many causes, regardless of race or creed, which needed help. A distinguished, useful citizen of Chicago is dead, but it is good that with his purposes and ability he had a long, full life. It made a great impression on the city and its influence will continue in many good and unseen ways. He had a life that was worth while to live.

PRIVATE POLICE IN ILLINOIS.

The annual convention of Illinois sheriffs commended the bankers' association of the state for offering to organize and arm 7,000 town guards in all sections of the state to prevent bank robberies. The town guards will cost the bankers $200,000, it was said.

The sheriffs recognize the town guards as allies and they realize that without strong allies it will be impossible to defeat the highwaymen. We can sympathize with them in this matter and with the bankers, too. The bankers have had to choose between paying outrageous insurance rates and raising $200,000 for their private police, and they have chosen the cheaper method.

The reversion to private policing, however, is just that—a reversion. It belongs to the middle ages. It is the sort of thing one reads about in Florentine romances. Policing is now generally recognized as the function of the state. Preventing bank robberies is peculiarly the function of the state because of the common interest in the stability of the banks. Robberies of banks have led to bank failures with all their attendant miseries. Bank insurance in rural Illinois is now so costly as to affect the prosperity, and hence the usefulness of the banks.

The correct solution of the problem is obviously a state police force. The present administration at Springfield is against it. The administration will not establish a constabulary to make rural life safe. The people of the state pay the bill, and it is their lives and property which are in jeopardy.

WHAT'S THE USE OF IT?

Philip Kinsley of THE TRIBUNE staff went to the Chester asylum for the criminal insane, saw some of the criminals Cook county has sent down there, including Gene Geary, twice a killer, and talked to Russell Scott, the latest killer to be put in Chester, as Geary was, on a jury verdict that he had been insane since his sentence.

Dr. Stubbs, superintendent of the hospital, has the responsibility of keeping these dangerous criminals, many of them with fixed ideas as to whom they want to kill if they get away, from breaking out as killing animals. Geary quarrels with every one, the superintendent said, a bully with his mentality ebbing and his weight increasing.

Scott is rational in talk. He says it is a hell to be in Chester. It is, he says, a hell to send these clients there rather than to the rope, and the criminals take Chester rather than death. The insane felon whose punishment is imprisonment is properly confined in a place for the holding of the insane, but what excuse can the state offer for the use of this prison as an alternative to capital punishment?

The people may not want to put out of the way forever a murderer who is an idiot without knowledge of right or wrong. What good he does himself alive no one could explain, but there may be an explicable sentiment against executing a capital sentence on an individual mentally incapable of conceiving a murder, although physically able to commit one.

But in cases in which alienists draw fine lines between sanity and insanity and cannot agree where the subject stands, except as the witnesses for the defense testify for insanity and the witnesses for the prosecution for sanity, in such cases what has justice to do with the distinction? What social good does it do to save from first punishment a criminal whose crime is proved, but whose exact mental condition causes a controversy among alienists?

What is the use of having law which allows these pretexts to defeat the laws on which society bases its security?

AN ENGLISHMAN'S IDEA OF ETERNITY IS THE LIFE OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE.

Jack Hobbs, the English cricket player, scored his 120th century, one hundred runs consecutively at bat for 124 times, Monday. That tied the record of the great W. G. Grace. The captain of the Surrey team gave the batsman a goblet of champagne and the news went around the British empire that Hobbs had tied the record. Probably Babe Ruth's home run record would not stand so very long if that goblet were added to the effectiveness of the lively ball.

Grace, now dead, took forty years to making his record. Our batting records are closed at the end of each season. Ruth, Hornsby, Harnett, Williams, Bennett, start all over again. Hobbs does not have his accumulated record of years to shoot at Ruth's total. It's a year to year business. What is time to the British empire and the boys of the bulldog breed?

Hobbs was twenty years in getting an even break with Grace. If his life and ability held out he could have had a half century at it if he had needed it. Tuesday he made another hundred and topped the old record just as messages of congratulation were coming in from everywhere in the world where the British are.

For the British the empire and its ways are set for eternity. Days and years are nothing. They just keep on going and although they ask themselves occasionally when Ramsay MacDonald gives up Singapore or the coal miners go on strike or the navy battles whether the empire is to survive, down deep they know that question is not worth asking and does not deserve an answer.

They may have to hang on a long time to an enemy who knows they are licked and gets mad because they don't know it. All they know is to keep it time is long and all that's necessary is to keep it. Not so good today but tomorrow is another day. Some one will be shooting at Hobbs' record for the next million years or so.

The Other Side

DETROIT WILL HOWL.
(Battle Creek (Mich.) Enquirer and Evening News.)
The work which went up in the recent legislation on the part of the Detroit and Wayne county members for a reapportionment of representation in the state legislature will be but a faint murmur compared with that which will no doubt arise when the next session convenes.

The state tax commission has just announced that the 1925 assessed valuation of Detroit is $201,270,000, higher than in 1924, and has recommended that for state tax purposes the property of all Wayne county be increased $21,000,000 over what it was in 1924.

The statement is accompanied by the information that Wayne county will thus pay over 44 per cent of the state taxes this year, and that three-fourths of the increased valuation of the state as a whole has come from Wayne. Last year it was estimated that Wayne county paid 45.1 per cent of the state tax.

At the same time as the tax valuation is announced comes the story of how the school census figures for Detroit show a population in the city proper of more than 1,200,000 and of "greater Detroit" of more than 1,500,000. This figure is an increase of more than $12,000,000 over the 1920 figure, or approximately 33 per cent, while the school census figures show the city's population in the last year to have increased 120,000, or some 10 per cent.

Even while the population is increasing 33 per cent a year the tax increase has amounted to a fraction over 1 per cent; while the population increase of five years, amounting to 53 per cent, has been followed by only some 6 per cent increase in the tax amount paid.

But the mere fact that there has been an increase will give the tax writers something more to wall about, the responsibility something more to cry over, and the "navies" of Detroit something more to make capital over.

And what taxes aren't due before the state tax commission will no doubt find full opportunity to make themselves prominent when the next session of the legislature convenes.

ILLUS OF CHILDHOOD.
CHILDREN of all groups should be fed at regular hours. Like most other authorities, he is opposed to giving children any food between meals.

TETANY.
In this condition there is a marked muscular wasting. The diet should contain articles such as vegetables and cereals that are high in minerals. Excess fats in foods are made into soaps in the intestines. These soaps use up and carry off considerable amounts of minerals. Therefore, in tetany, the diet should be poor in fats.

MILK is the cornerstone of the diet of children. At the same time it occasionally happens that a child is fed too much milk. Some children do better on dried milk, milk powders and concentrated milk than on full liquid milk. There are many children who do better on buttermilk and other acid milks than they do on the ordinary product.

TATTOOING CAN BE REMOVED.
F. N. B. writes:
I can tattooing be removed?
2. Will it leave scars? you might buy I am a waiter, and during the world war got tattooed. I find it impossible to get decent employment on that account.

REPLY.
1. Yes.
2. No if the operation is skillfully done. The removal of tattoos should be regarded as an operation. It can be done only by a person with experience and skill.

HYGIENE FOR WOMEN.
L. L. writes: Can you name a book which treats on feminine hygiene? I care for my little about how to care for myself in a certain time. I am 16 years old, and there are times when I do not know whether darning is for me, or not, and if I had such a book I could read up on these things. I have nobody whom I would like to ask questions of this kind.

REPLY.
Send me a stamped self-addressed envelope for a copy of "Personal Hygiene for Women." If all of your questions are not answered in that booklet, you might buy "The Four Books in Women's Life," by Galt, or some of the other good books on personal hygiene for women under ten or so.

THEY ARE FATTENING.
M. J. writes: I want you for the following: Gravel with cream; buttermilk with cream; creamed potatoes with meat.

REPLY.
Yes—very.

NATURALIZATION OF WIFE.
Chicago, Aug. 16.—(Friend of the People.)—My husband is a citizen but I am not. Can I get naturalized without waiting for five years of residence? My eight year old child by a former marriage recently came from Europe. Would she also claim citizenship if I became naturalized? Mrs. J. J.

REPLY.
If you desire to become a citizen you should all form 2214 (preliminary form for naturalization) and send it to this office. Your naturalization will naturalize your children by your former marriage. If you former husband is dead, it provides your children are living in the United States.

PAYING RELAYED BY ORDER.
Chicago, Aug. 15.—(Friend of the People.)—I live on Polk street in the 4800 block and would like to know how soon this street will be paved. It is so bad it looks like an alley or dumping ground.

REPLY.
At a public hearing held Nov. 14, 1924, we ordered a system of streets paved, including Polk street between Adams and Madison streets, etc. It was also ordered that nothing further be done in the matter for the period of one year. There is no chance of paving the street this year.

As soon as the year's stay expires next

60 YEARS AGO TODAY

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The claims of the state of Massachusetts to the extent of about $1,500,000 on account of advances during the war have been allowed by the federal government. It is now under consideration.

NEW YORK.—The Washington special of the Herald says: "An opinion has been expressed by the federal government to undertake the trial of Wirt, but will cause the Andersonville rebellion to be forgotten."

SPRINGFIELD.—The National bureau of fair coinage has announced that it is understood that Gen. Grant, who is a warm admirer of good horses, will be here on that occasion.

MEMPHIS.—The recent earthquake here was so severe that it broke down, threw crockery off shelves, water out of basins, and broke tops off chimneys. The quake was felt throughout western Kentucky, Tennessee, and northern Mississippi.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Gov. Murphy of Arkansas has notified the President in view of the ingratitude and rebellious spirit of leading returned rebels he will not recommend any more pardons be granted.

35 YEARS AGO TODAY

CHICAGO.—The Tribune was in the hands of the municipal division of Chicago, at least in respect to population. The figures given out by the government census officials show that ward to have a population of 184,000.

CHICAGO.—The storm which started yesterday at midday in the neighborhood of Sheshyev, Wis., in which city it wrecked 200 buildings, swept over Chicago at 11 o'clock last night, having previously struck around the south and east to Hammond, Ind., where it blew down a triumphal arch and injured five persons.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the type fall where they may.

ROSE MARIE.
My mother named me Mary Jane, I think 'twas most unkind to me, It is so commonplace and plain, I wish my name were Rose Marie.

Now Mary Jane's looks I despise, The little inside girl who's ME Has golden curls, and blue, blue eyes, And she looks just like Rose Marie.

I know my hair is brown, and plain, My eyes are gray as gray can be, My outside may be Mary Jane, But my INSIDE is Rose Marie!

MARION F. W.

RUDELPHO VALENTINO and his wife, Winifred Hendrix, are going to separate. He humbly suggests that she should go to Hollywood way if that's all the press agent could think of.

My, My I We Thought They Began in Germany.
Say, R. H. L., where do you get this red-hot stuff anyway? Down in Texas, where rednos brag, red-e-e sounds like it looks like!

BLUEBERRY BERRY.

There is No Such Animal.
To the Skipper of the Dreadnaught: Don't you think it would be a little difficult to have just red-heads who kiss with their eyes closed? For variety, no, in competition, I offer myself as one of the few remaining exponents of a diving act—a red-head who kisses with her eyes open.

REMA PATRICIA.

GUY, YOU SHOULD BE HERE!

(From Guy De Mowbray's "Strong as Death.")
Nothing is more graceful or more charming than a woman's foot; and what mystery it suggests! The hidden limb, lost, yet imagined beneath its veiling folds of drapery!

WE'VE GOT to go fishing up at Phelps, Wis. Saturday, and gee, how we dread it! We don't much care whether we catch a muskellunge or a comb-back Windsor, or both, we're going mostly for the ride. But it's hard to work when one is thinking of the first (and last) fishing trip he is going to have all summer. All day yesterday that old pump by Tennyson (or was it Tennyson?) chased around in our mind:

The black has dived to the bottom of the pool And he's held to the well-roped pike: There'll be hell to pay in the lake today, For I've seen your Uncle Ike.

It is Possible.

REL: You're wrong again. In speaking of his daughter, Longfellow did not write "Sweet Alice with golden hair," as the caption writer stated, but did write "Alice, where art thou?" as you insisted. He wrote "Alice fair in love and true."

WHEREVER WHOLE.

AREN'T MEN THE CONTRARY THINGS!

Friend Dick: What worries it me how pigs are soled in I O way or pig-geed in Egypt when it's men want to know about. What about them, Dick, do they know what they want—and if they do, why don't they get it? The case in point is that as the baby sister of six brothers I've been rigidly trained into what I call a sensible, dependable "good sport." Some of their Commandments are:

Talk sense.
Be brief.
Stand on your own feet.
Wear enough clothes.

And those same brothers have gone and taken unto themselves wives that are every last one of the things that I never do but. Yes, sir, the last one bore his honey bride home yesterday. She coos her words, and saucers her eyes, and her hair crimps all over the place. Her clothes are as close to negligible as the margin left worth an argument. Her vocabulary is intensive rather than extensive, but it's a hard working one. I'll say that for it. They had a gorgeous overland honeymoon of mountains, lakes, and things, but she spent the afternoon telling us how she and the bride were "so different" in every city. Oh, she's a nice kid and I am going to like her, but what makes me so mad is to think of the perfectly good hours I'll have to spend unlearning all that "good sense" she's been teaching me.

PUBLIC SCHOOL MANAGEMENT.
Chicago, Aug. 15.—The business management of the public schools has recently been the subject of public utterances, and countless others, could be given around in our mind:

There is no one more efficient and so might we say they belong to the people. Private schools—institutions for human welfare and not for profit—are also suffering from inefficiency. Our public schools might be more efficient and so might we say they belong to the people. Private schools—institutions for human welfare and not for profit—are also suffering from inefficiency. Our public schools might be more efficient and so might we say they belong to the people.

When one recalls that business and the application of business principles have undergone revolution during the last ten years, are still being operated by, and that almost any private enterprise or corporation engaged for personal gain may be termed inefficient, one need not become dumfounded when told that our public schools—institutions for human welfare and not for profit—are also suffering from inefficiency. Our public schools might be more efficient and so might we say they belong to the people.

From the President of the INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS.
New York, Aug. 12.—I have been interested in reading an editorial in which you very justly draw the conclusion that it is bad business to skimp a building at good business to avoid wasteful expenditure; and further, that it is good business also to give careful study to the plans and specifications with a view to eliminating non-essential items.

From a long practice I can say that these principles are constantly in the minds of architects. The further statement of your editorial that "architects are inclined to specify costly and unnecessary details, partly from habit and partly because the architect receives as his fee the percentage of the entire cost of the building" does a great injustice to the profession.

There is no one purpose more purely and honestly in the mind of the architect than that of trying to find less expensive methods and less expensive materials. I am sure that there are very few architects who do not take the most careful study of the plans and specifications with a view to eliminating non-essential items.

From a long practice I can say that these principles are constantly in the minds of architects. The further statement of your editorial that "architects are inclined to specify costly and

Elmer Finds Real Joy in Violin Numbers

Negro Spirituals Also Win His Praise.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Despite the seasonal lull, there were some features of real interest and worth last night.

On the WEIB 730 special recital, Mrs. Dorothy Bloom, soprano, carried the greater responsibility. Hers is a voice light in volume and character, and naturally her lighter numbers were sung the more convincingly.

The writer found the greatest musical interest in one of the violin selections played by Boulik Lodon, assisting artist. This was the second movement of Sonata in G major by Grieg. There were grace notes and delicate fingerings that resembled the rapidly trilled notes of a bird, some of these being so complex that I could not transfer them to paper.

The W-G-N 830 radio production of Cadman's song cycle, "The Morning of the Year," was important from musical and feature standpoint, and besides, was exceedingly well done. The work might be classed along with the heavy oratorios. It is modern, with modern harmonizations difficult to grasp, and consequently strange in its tonal effects. The piano score, and occasionally the voices, went down deep into the imitation of the great out of doors in her morning and evening atmospheric moods, and occasionally delved deep into nature's darker, blacker scenic moods.

Works of this character always require a second, a third or more hearings before we can feel that we know and properly appreciate them. That's why the opening number, "Spirit of Spring," seemed especially familiar and beautiful, because we had heard it sung from WEIB last Sunday evening.

We must now turn to WMAQ, 830-9:30, where the Armour Singers gave a group of the familiar and the likeable folk songs and Negro spirituals. Out of respect to Victor F. Lawson, publisher of the Daily News, which operates the station, a program of only one hour was given.

C. A. A. MEMBERS VOTE BONDS TO EXPAND BUILDING

Members of the Chicago Athletic Association voted unanimously last night to issue bonds of $750,000 for building improvements.

Oscar Anderson, assistant secretary, said six additional stories will be placed on the present club as soon as the architect's plans have been completed. Interior improvements also will be made.

The club is located at 12 South Michigan avenue.

Farmer Seeks Missing Man Who Promised Him Loan

Hugo Wendt, a farmer of Ransom county, South Dakota, asked the aid of the police yesterday in finding his brother-in-law, Simon Chen. Chen, he said, was a wealthy German and had promised to advance him money to purchase a farm. They were to meet in the La Salle hotel. Wendt fears that unless he can find Chen he won't be able to buy the farm.

WILSON NOD AT PARIS LIGHTENED BELGIUM'S DEBT

Rescued Peace Parley
from Disruption.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 20.—(AP)—The American government received Belgium's claim to special treatment in payment of her war debt, Secretary Mellon said today. It represented a promise of President Wilson which at the time it was made was so important that it forestalled disruption of the Versailles peace conference.

The secretary, who is head of the American debt funding commission, said this circumstance was weighed carefully by the commission and by President Coolidge in agreement to remit the interest on all Belgian war debt.

Checked Belgian Withdrawal.
Mr. Mellon said the pledge of President Wilson was made at a time when Belgium was about to withdraw from the peace negotiations, and that Secretary Hoover, a member of both the Versailles conference and the debt commission, testified during the debt commission that the influence of Mr. Wilson's promise on the peace settlement was indisputable.

Secretary Mellon's explanation was the first disclosure of the circumstances which led the American government to deviate from the policy of nonrecognition of any peculiar status for Belgium. That there would be no such recognition was stated many times on high authority before the discussions began, but when the history of the peace conference was reviewed and laid before President Coolidge at Plymouth, it was decided that the moral obligation asserted by the Belgians could not be denied.

History of Wilson Pledge.
The stage at which Belgium was induced by President Wilson not to withdraw from Versailles, Mr. Mellon said, was reached when it had been decided to allow a Belgian claim against Germany for the expense of taking up the war time currency forced on the Belgians during the occupation, and to give Belgium the right to collect from Germany for the cost of machinery and plants actually moved out of the country by the Germans.

The Belgian treaty negotiators were about to withdraw when it was agreed that these claims would be offset in a measure by special treatment of Belgium's debt to her allies.

The circumstance and the estimated ability of Belgium to pay, were said by Secretary Mellon to have guided the American debt commissioners to a final settlement.

Says House Engineer.
SENATOR J. AUG. 20.—The TRIBUNE is informed by a Belgian diplomat that Mr. Mellon's promise to President Wilson was his will to promise to accept bonds for the Belgian

COOLIDGE APPROVES AGREEMENT SETTTLING BELGIAN DEBT TO U. S.

Northampton, Mass., Aug. 20.—(AP)—President Coolidge tonight approved the Belgian debt settlement.

The agreement, rushed from Washington to Swampscott in a special mail pouch, was brought from the summer White House to Northampton in a White House automobile by E. C. Geisler, personal stenographer for the President. Mr. Geisler was here when the President arrived from Plymouth, Vt., for an overnight stay.

The President's signature to the agreement leaves the next step, so far as the American government is concerned, up to congress, which must ratify all settlements.

Mr. Geisler left for Swampscott at once so as to have the document placed in the mail pouch which was to go forward to Washington tonight from Swampscott.

war debt, and it was this that led to the break between the two men later.

The story goes that King Albert flew to Paris during the peace negotiations, and when Mr. Wilson was too busy to see him he saw Col. House and persuaded him to have Mr. Wilson transfer the Belgian war debt to Germany.

In creating an atmosphere of moral obligation to make a concession on the war debt, the Thunau delegation overtook the moral obligation of Belgium to pay the American post-war debt out of the first money she received from Germany after the armistice, as provided in Mr. Wilson's terms.

Wife Asks Court to Cure Husband's Heart Trouble
Several months ago Andrew Holt, 2208 North Kimball avenue, told his wife he had heart disease and that the doctor had ordered him to take a trip to Norway to cure it. But when Andrew returned and she unpacked his trunks Mrs. Holt found a number of love letters from a woman. Later she discovered that he had spent nearly all his funds. Yesterday a charge of nonsupport placed Holt in the Court of Domestic Relations.

Evanston Policeman Is Shot Down by Thieves
Policeman Edward Krogman of the Evanston police was wounded in the arm last night by two colored burglars whom he surprised trying to enter the Nelson Brothers Laundry company, 1014 Davis street, Evanston. Although wounded Krogman gave chase and the dropped unconscious in front of 1026 Davis street. The robbers escaped.

Canoe Swamped in Squall, Life Guards Rescue Two
L. J. Hartman, 4234 North Winchester avenue, and John Carey, 4859 Kenmore avenue, were rescued by life guards at the Glenview beach yesterday afternoon, when a small sailing canoe in which they were riding was swamped about a mile off shore in a sudden squall.

FRENCH VISION DEBT PAY CUT IN WILSON'S PLEDGE

Hope for Concessions Like U. S. Gave Belgium.

PARIS, Aug. 20.—(The New York Times.)—That part of the American statement on the Belgian settlement which leads to the attention of the French is the section saying that President Wilson's promises at the Paris peace conference regarding Belgium's debt constituted a moral obligation influencing the present Washington administration.

This declaration appeals to the French because at the Paris conference President Wilson made other commitments than those regarding Belgium's war debt. These extended to American participation in the league of nations and included an agreement that Germany should pay for war damage in France.

Hope for Concessions.
It is contended here that there is an analogy between the two treaty provisions, one saying Germany should pay Belgium's war debt and another saying Germany should pay France's war damage. The French conclude that if the provision affecting Belgium's debt now influences the Washington government there is no reason the provision regarding reparations should not form the basis for a plan that France is entitled to special consideration so long as she must bear the burden of having repaired the damage that all armies did upon her soil in fighting a common battle.

TO OFFER BRITAIN MORE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]
PARIS, Aug. 20.—Certain details of France's forthcoming offer to Great Britain for the settlement of the French war debts have been obtained. Joseph Caillaux, finance minister, will make the offer in London on Monday. France will offer an annuity of $11,000,000 ($90,000,000) instead of the $13,000,000 ($100,000,000) which the British demanded. But this marks an appreciable increase from the $11,000,000 ($85,000,000) which the French financial experts offered at the London conference last month. It is stated the latest offer is acceptable to the British.

M. Caillaux will then request the British government to reexamine the yield of England's reparations under the Dawes plan with a view to securing an annual reduction of $5,000,000 on this amount.

French Arrive Sept. 22.
Washington, D. C., Aug. 20.—(Special.)—The French debt commission which is coming to the United States to negotiate for settlement of that country's obligation of more than four billion dollars to this government, will sail on Sept. 16, arriving here about Sept. 23, according to official advice received today. The membership of the commission has not been announced.

In view of the special consideration given to Belgium and the distinction made between her pre-armistice and post-armistice debts, the question has been raised as to whether France might not be given some similar consideration. While declining to discuss anything regarding the possible terms of the French settlement, officials made it plain today that the Belgian case must not be taken as a precedent for any other debt problems.

All this week Edwin Chase has been providing you with the facts about Lilac Lodge and the new selling policy under which it will be offered to the public next Sunday. Coupons from interested home-seekers and investors are flooding into us by every mail and the success of Lilac Lodge is assured.

Apparently people appreciate the unusual qualities of a property right on fast transit where lots averaging 50x150 may be purchased for as little as $590, including graded streets and cement sidewalks. Apparently there are a great many people who from their own knowledge of property values in Oak Park, Maywood, Elmhurst, Glen Ellyn and other west suburbs, realize that $2,000 could not buy a lot equal to those offered in Lilac Lodge, in any of these other suburbs at our price. We urgently recommend to those seeking an ideal investment or an ideal home site in a delightful location that they come out Sunday at our expense and see this property without obligation.

FREE TRIP BOTH WAYS

CHICAGO LIKELY TO SEE ITS LAKE FLOW CUT SEPT. 3

Failure to Observe Meter
Order the Cause.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 20.—(Special.)—Chicago faces the probability of having its water withdrawal from Lake Michigan materially reduced by the war department on Sept. 3. This was made plain today by Maj. Gen. Harry Taylor, chief of engineers, after a conference with Maj. Rufus W. Putnam, district engineer at Chicago.

Maj. Putnam submitted no formal report. Neither did he submit written recommendations as to what policy should be pursued by the war department in going ahead with the policy of water withdrawal permit was issued by the secretary of war.

But Maj. Putnam orally gave his commanding officer an outline of the Chicago situation. He reported that the sanitary district evidently was trying to live up to its part of the contract in going ahead with the policy for sewage treatment and disposal, but that the city fathers of Chicago were inclined to be dilatory in the matter of installing meters.

City Council Blamed.

The conference was held mainly in order that the war department might be fully advised as to present conditions in Chicago. At present, the policy might be formulated and carried out if the city has not passed an ordinance providing for water meters when the six months of grace have elapsed.

Maj. Putnam reported there was little likelihood of anything being done by the city before Sept. 3, as the council adjourned to late in October.

It was reported that Maj. Putnam would recommend a reduction in flow of about 600 cubic feet per second as a penalty for the city's tardiness.

But if such recommendation were made by Maj. Putnam, Gen. Taylor refused to confirm it. It is rather thought here that the policy of the war department will be to make the reduction great enough to make the city really feel the "pinch" as a prod to hasten municipal action.

"The situation," Gen. Taylor said, "is simply this: If the city has not taken action looking toward the installation of water meters by Sept. 3, then it will be guilty of a gross and flagrant violation of the terms of the contract. This is a serious matter and one that will have to be decided by the secretary of war."

SENDS $1,000,000 BOND

Carrying out part of the terms of the federal government's permit to withdraw 8,500 cubic feet of water per second from Lake Michigan for new age for five years, President Lawrence F. King of the drainage board announced yesterday he would forward a surety bond of $1,000,000 to the war department as a pledge of its faith in bearing a share of the construction costs of regulating works to maintain lake levels.

At the same time the trustees authorized the sale of $6,000,000 worth of bonds to a syndicate of ten banking firms. The money will be used to construct treatment plants.

TREASURY DECISIONS WILL ADD TO TAXES OF STOCK EXCHANGES

Washington, D. C., Aug. 20.—(Special.)—Two treasury decisions were issued today with reference to the capital stock tax and income tax as related to stock exchanges. The decisions amend regulations 64 (the capital stock tax regulations) and regulations 65 (the income tax regulations) by adding to each the following:

"A stock exchange is not a business league, chamber of commerce or board of trade within the meaning of the law and is not exempt from tax."

The treasury decisions are based on an opinion of the attorney general that stock exchanges and their subsidiaries are not "business leagues," "chambers of commerce" or "boards of trade" within the contemplation of section 231 (7) of the revenue act of 1921 and similar provisions of the acts of 1916 and 1918 granting exemption to organizations of those general classes, and that such exchanges and their subsidiaries are therefore subject to both income and capital stock taxes under each one of these acts.

Ericson's estimate of the economies possible by meterization is one of his answers to a series of questions asked by Aid. Donald S. McKinlay (19th).

Unless the metering ordinance is passed at once, Mr. Ericson declared, it will be imperative on the city to undertake a new construction program, which if based on the normal growth of Chicago in the past, will involve an aggregate expenditure of $624,000,000 before 1960.

TAPS TODAY FOR VETERAN OF '61, BLIND 45 YEARS

Taps will be sounded today for William E. Minshall, G. A. R., blind forty-five years as the result of Civil war wounds. He died Wednesday at the Jackson Park hotel, where he had lived for 28 years. He was buried today at Rosehill cemetery. Minshall was a sergeant in Co. K, Sixth Wisconsin volunteers, commanded by Rufus Dawes, father of Vice President Charles G. Dawes. Military honors will be accorded by the few comrades left in George H. Thomas post of the Grand Army, of which Minshall was a member. Minshall lost his eye sight about 15 years after the war as the result of injuries received in battle.

CLAIMS METER SYSTEM WOULD SAVE 198 MILLION

Ericson Estimates for 35
Year Period.

Universal metering of the water supply as proposed in the ordinance pending in the city council will save Chicago water users at least $198,000,000 during the next thirty-five years, it was asserted yesterday by City Engineer John Ericson. Mr. Ericson's estimate of the economies possible by meterization is one of his answers to a series of questions asked by Aid. Donald S. McKinlay (19th).

Unless the metering ordinance is passed at once, Mr. Ericson declared, it will be imperative on the city to undertake a new construction program, which if based on the normal growth of Chicago in the past, will involve an aggregate expenditure of $624,000,000 before 1960.

COMPARISON OF COSTS.

Comparative estimates of the contemplated expenditures for construction of tunnels, machinery and water mains as well as operation and the necessary renewals and repairs under the prevailing unmetered system and a metered service are as follows:

	Under present unmetered system.	Under metered system.
Construction	$154,000,000	$21,000,000
Operation	$110,000,000	$93,000,000
Repairs and renewals	350,000,000	187,000,000
Totals	$624,000,000	$321,000,000

The gross saving possible under a metered system, as pointed out in the table, is $303,000,000. Under a metered system, however, the revenues of the water department will approximate $198,000,000 for the 35 year period—less than under the present system.

PNEUMONIA IS ON THE INCREASE; WARNING AGAINST PLAGUE

1927 Die This Year, Figures Show.

Pneumonia, more commonly known as "the lung fever," is reaching a stage of epidemic in Chicago, according to a warning issued yesterday by the health department. It is estimated that in 1927 there have been 9,545 cases, with 2,892 deaths, a percentage rate of 30.2, according to the health department records. In 1926 there were only 6,945 cases, with 2,892 deaths, a percentage rate of 41.6.

While the epidemic is spreading over the country, an outbreak of summer colds is being reported. The following measures are advocated by the health department: Keep away from persons having colds. When you catch cold, keep away from others. To protect others cover the nose and mouth with a handkerchief when coughing or sneezing, and disinfect the nose secretions by burning or boiling.

Take Plenty of Exercise.

"Avoid poorly ventilated and overheated rooms. Stop working or playing short of fatigue. Wear proper clothing and maintain good general health by observing rules of health. Take proper exercise. Get plenty of fresh air and sunshine, and do not go to excess. Take a long vacation in the open during the summer if you can. Keep away from pneumonia cases and from persons recovering from pneumonia. Consult your doctor early if you have a persistent cold."

Lyle Holds Four Youths on Bonds of $20,000 Each

Four youths who were arrested after they had looted the flat of Morris Carson, 3650 Lexington street, two weeks ago, were held in bonds of $20,000 each when they were arraigned yesterday before Judge Lyle. They are Ralph Orlando, 714 Lyle street; Nick Muscato, 1815 Garibaldi place; Max Poletero, 1343 Elburn avenue; and Joseph Coyne, 711 South Marshfield avenue.

To Use Colored Lights

The fountain will discharge 1,600 gallons of water a minute and at times of special display the flow can be increased to 5,500 gallons. Colored lights will be used for the fountain at night. Its location is to be in Grant park east of the Illinois Central railroad tracks at the foot of Congress street extended. The general scheme was accepted by the South Park commissioners more than a year ago. After many months in perfecting design, experimenting with water jets, and arranging a system of lighting, the project is ready for construction.

BUSCH AFFIRMS RIGHT TO REMOVE ELECTION OFFICES

Early removal of the election commissioners' offices from the city hall to quarters in the Loomis street building seemed assured yesterday in view of an opinion given Commissioner of Public Works A. A. Sprague by Corporation Counsel F. X. Busch affirming the former's authority to make the change in spite of protests from the election board.

County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki and the election commissioners demurred to the proposed relocation of the offices, citing the necessity of a centrally located headquarters on elections. Mr. Busch, however, ruled yesterday that no legal objection can be found to the separation of judges and clerks when they leave the polling places so that some of them may make their returns to the proper city of officials while others report to the election board.

Commissioner Sprague, absent from the city on vacation, has recommended use of the building by the election commissioners, as a means of providing space in the city hall for important municipal activities now housed in rented quarters.

Seeks Girl Who Left Home; Walked at Dishes

Police last night were asked to search for Hattie Knack, 16, of 2404 South Spaulding avenue, who disappeared Aug. 14. Her mother, Mrs. Mary Knack, said Hattie refused to wash the dishes, and after an argument left home carrying a satchel. She is described as pretty, with dark brown hair and brown eyes.

LIUTENANTS TO GO IN SHAKEUP, COLLINS WARNS

Forthcoming police shakeup orders, which it was believed would be limited to plain clothes details and patrolmen, will hit a considerable number of lieutenants as well, it was revealed by Chief of Police Collins last night. Lieutenants who have ailed since their assignment to desk duty are to be disciplined, and several, it was hinted by the chief, are to be sent before the trial board.

"I love to hear the lieutenants' roars," declared the chief last night. "They complain they are 'chained to their desks with no chance to get out and do things.' They are darned right. And I'll see that they don't get out where they can 'do things' any more."

"I warn the lieutenants that as soon as we have made the new captains which are expected within a few days there will be a lot of lieutenants moved to new districts where they will work as they have never worked before and another lot will be looking for new jobs outside the police department as soon as I can prefer charges and obtain their dismissal."

WORK TO BEGIN ON BUCKINGHAM FOUNTAIN AUG. 24

Work will start Monday in Grant park on a fountain probably as large and costly as any in the world, it was announced yesterday by the firm of Bennett, Parsons & Frost, architects.

The fountain, twice the size of that of Latona at Versailles, is a gift by Miss Kate Buckingham, art patron, in memory of her brother, Clarence Buckingham. It is to be completed in twenty-two months at a cost of $700,000.

Let Contracts for Work.

Contracts were let yesterday on the return of Miss Buckingham and Edward H. Bennett, member of the designing and casting of four groups of bronze horses which will be placed in the main pool. The fountain will be set in a garden 400 feet square and will consist of a main pool, 300 feet in diameter, and four small pools, one at each corner of the garden.

To Use Colored Lights.

The fountain will discharge 1,600 gallons of water a minute and at times of special display the flow can be increased to 5,500 gallons. Colored lights will be used for the fountain at night.

Its location is to be in Grant park east of the Illinois Central railroad tracks at the foot of Congress street extended. The general scheme was accepted by the South Park commissioners more than a year ago. After many months in perfecting design, experimenting with water jets, and arranging a system of lighting, the project is ready for construction.

BUSCH AFFIRMS RIGHT TO REMOVE ELECTION OFFICES

Early removal of the election commissioners' offices from the city hall to quarters in the Loomis street building seemed assured yesterday in view of an opinion given Commissioner of Public Works A. A. Sprague by Corporation Counsel F. X. Busch affirming the former's authority to make the change in spite of protests from the election board.

County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki and the election commissioners demurred to the proposed relocation of the offices, citing the necessity of a centrally located headquarters on elections. Mr. Busch, however, ruled yesterday that no legal objection can be found to the separation of judges and clerks when they leave the polling places so that some of them may make their returns to the proper city of officials while others report to the election board.

Commissioner Sprague, absent from the city on vacation, has recommended use of the building by the election commissioners, as a means of providing space in the city hall for important municipal activities now housed in rented quarters.

Seeks Girl Who Left Home; Walked at Dishes

Police last night were asked to search for Hattie Knack, 16, of 2404 South Spaulding avenue, who disappeared Aug. 14. Her mother, Mrs. Mary Knack, said Hattie refused to wash the dishes, and after an argument left home carrying a satchel. She is described as pretty, with dark brown hair and brown eyes.

LIUTENANTS TO GO IN SHAKEUP, COLLINS WARNS

Forthcoming police shakeup orders, which it was believed would be limited to plain clothes details and patrolmen, will hit a considerable number of lieutenants as well, it was revealed by Chief of Police Collins last night. Lieutenants who have ailed since their assignment to desk duty are to be disciplined, and several, it was hinted by the chief, are to be sent before the trial board.

"I love to hear the lieutenants' roars," declared the chief last night. "They complain they are 'chained to their desks with no chance to get out and do things.' They are darned right. And I'll see that they don't get out where they can 'do things' any more."

"I warn the lieutenants that as soon as we have made the new captains which are expected within a few days there will be a lot of lieutenants moved to new districts where they will work as they have never worked before and another lot will be looking for new jobs outside the police department as soon as I can prefer charges and obtain their dismissal."

Dr. Wm. G. Beek Gives His Opinion of IRIS

CHICAGOANS know Dr. Beek to be an eminent optical specialist, and the doctor knows Iris to be a good eye bath.

"Grown-ups and children cannot be too careful in the care of their eyes. An eye bath such as Iris helps to preserve the eyesight. This harmless but effective remedy will aid or rest a person's eyes and should be welcomed by mankind. Iris is especially beneficial after motoring, sewing, office work or a day spent in the busy city."

WM. G. BEEK, M. D.,
5 E. Washington St., Chicago.

Cool, refreshing, cleansing, Iris keeps your eyes clear and sparkling by cleansing them of the grime and dust of the day and by relieving them of the irritation caused by sun-glare and long hours of intensive use.

Try the soothing effect of Iris tonight and you'll become a regular user. You will no more neglect your twice daily Iris eye bath than you would miss the regular use of your tooth brush.

WM. G. BEEK, M. D.,
5 E. Washington St., Chicago.

Morning and evening fill the eye cup half full of Iris. Hold it over your opened eye and slowly look from left to right several times. Immediately you will feel the cooling, soothing effects of this restful lotion. You will feel brighter, keener.

This regular cleansing will keep your eyes clear and bright and will remove fatigue lines. The astringent ingredient in Iris pulls up the sagging eye muscles and makes the skin about the eyes firm and smooth.

Physicians, oculists and beauty experts all agree that the regular use of Iris is one detail of your toilet you must not forget.

Send to your favorite toilet counter and get a bottle of Iris. Begin today to enjoy all the benefits of this new toilet necessity. Each package contains a polished eye cup and a most interesting booklet on the care of the eyes.
